

Flying Eye present their new piece...

GLOW

I stand under the starry sky and feel the world thrill through me, like the pulse of ants in an anthill.

Brighton based theatre company Flying Eye would like to invite you and your child to a free and open sharing of their latest work for babes in arms and carers – GLOW.

GLOW is about indescribable feelings and their impact on us. Through the use of lighting, live music, objects and interaction with performers, we aim to create a playful and sensitive yet dynamic sensory experience for babies, toddlers and their carers.

We are supported by Arts Council England and Brighton Dome for this show to premier at the Brighton Festival 2015 and tour nationally thereafter.

And this is why we need you! As this is the first time we are creating a piece of work directly for babies, toddlers and their carers, we need to gather as much feedback from young people and yourselves in order to learn what is the right path for this show. Those sessions last year in the development phase was incredibly beneficial for the piece.

The work is aimed at children aged 3 months to 4 years. The 5 free sessions, all of which will last between 15 -30 minutes, are as follows:
